THE BLUES TAKE A FALL OUT OF INDIANAPOLIS.

Hoosiers' Errors and Blues' Brilliant Fielding Took the Game-Frisbee's Catch the Feature-Other Baseball News.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 23.-(Special.) "Jimmy" Manning's Blues stacked up a tough proposition for the crippled Indians to-day. The defeat came because of faulty play at first base by Deady, who contributed all four of the eight errors at this corner, and three of them in the closing inning, thus giving the two runs by which the victory was gained. Despite the five errors of the Cowboys, it was through fielding of the most brilliant character that Pardee carried off his game. Frisbee out in left field did more than any other of the visitors to take the heart out of the champions by his sensational catch of Hogriever's line drive in the fourth that was sailing into three base territory.

The Cowboys were first sent to bat and Single hit a slow one toward second, which he beat out. Frisbee bunted one in Hoffmeister's territory, and the third baseman threw wildly to first. Slagle kept on to third and Deady recovered the ball nd had him nailed at the bag, but Allen dropped the assist. Connaunghton's retirement permitted the score. Hogriever and Hoffmeister both registered singles in the champions' half, but Deady had forced Hogriever, and Fleming and Stewart could not get the ball out of the diamond.

The Blues drew a blank in the second, and the Indians tied up the score. Allen

JACK DALY IS GIVEN THE DECISION OVER M'PARTLAND.

The Kid Let His Temper Get Away and He Struck His Opponent in a Clinch-Daly Had Rather the Best of the Bout.

NEW YORK, May 23.-Jack Daly, of Wilmington, Del., got a decision on a foul over Kid McPartland, of this city, after having fought fourteen and a half rounds, in the Lenox Athletic Club, to-night. The out was a rattling good one while it lasted, but from the eighth round it was very evident that Daly would get the better of McPartland, as the latter lost control of McPartland, as the latter lost control of his temper. Daly was the favorite in the betting, 100 to 90 being laid on his chances. The principals in the introductory bout were "Kid" Robinson, colored, of Chicago, and Billy Moore, of Syracuse. These boys weighed in at 120 pounds, and were booked for twelve rounds. The Chicago boy was taller than his opponent and soon proved himself the cleverer boxer. Robinson seemed to have generally the best of the fight, but he was too weak in the final round to embrace an opportunity to put in a knock-out blow and the fight was declared a draw.

Jack Daly was looked after by Sam Fitzpatrick, Midget Glinn and Kid Howard.

The first round was light, but in the secon the Kid sprung a new blow, a left jab on the face quickly brought down to the kidneys. Both rounds ended in a clinch. There was a hot exchange in the third, and Daly clinched twice, repeating the performance at the opening of the fourth, which saw some good fighting on both sides, both men landing frequently on the face.

which saw some good fighting on both sides, both men landing frequently on the face.

In the sixth round Mac clinched after Daly had put several hot ones on face and neck. The seventh was full of sparring, both men getting in a blow each towards its close, but neither effective. In round eight Daly landed heavily and rushed Mac to his corner. When they came up again both started to slug and a strong upper cut on the nose caused the New Yorker to lose his temper completely. Daly slipped to the floor and when he was half down Mac hit him. There was an uproar in the house at this moment while the referee kept Mac from fouling. Rounds ten and eleven were not warm, but in the tweffth Mac rushed Daly to his corner and doubled him up with a punch in the wind. There were frequent clinches and Daly claimed Mac hit him low on the body.

In the thirteenth round Daly slapped Mac with a hard right on the head and got his eye split in return. In the next round Daly rushed and landed heavily on the head.

In the final round the boys rushed into a clinch from which White got them to break. Daly rushed and alammed McPartland right and left. Mac clinched and White tried to separate them. In the clinch Mac struck Daly and the latter fell. White rolled over him, hurting Daly's leg. Mac walked to his corner and Daly limped to his. This ended the bout, and Charley Harvey announced that the referee had awarded the decision to Daly on account of McPartland having struck Daly in a clinch.

BOARD OF TRADE MAY MOVE Most of the Members Sign an Agree ment to Leave the Exchange Building.

Most of the members of the board of trade yesterday signed an agreement to va-cate their present quarters in the Exchange building unless negotiations looking to the purchase of that building by the members of the board are reopened between the building committee of the board and Richard Gentry, who owns the Exchange building. The building committee of the board claims to have arranged for options on several large buildings suitable for the use of the board, although it seclines to mention any of them. Not all of the members have signed the agreement to move, but so many have done so that the others would be compelled to follow them in case they should move. This would mean the practical desertion of the Exchange building, as, aside from grain mee, it is occupied only by railroad offices, bucketshops and other enterprises wholly dependent upon the grain men for support, with the exceptions of the Commercial Club and the transportation bureau. beard and Richard Gentry, who owns the wholly dependent upon the grain men for support, with the exceptions of the Commercial Club and the transportation bureau.

The building committee of the board of trade claims it can secure as good quarters for the grainmen at 50 per cent lower rentals than are now pale in the Exchange building. It claims to have offered Mr. Gentry $270,000 for the building. This offer, however, contemplated only a small payment in cash and Mr. Gentry refused to consider the offer, thus, the board of trade men say, breaking off negotiations with the building committee.

The fight between Mr. Gentry and the members of the board of trade has existed in organized form for over a year. When L. M. Miller, now chairman of the building committee of the board, was president of the organization, he appointed a building committee, of which Colonel N. P. Simonds was chairman, and this committee, failing to successfully negotiate for the purchase of the Exchange building, planned for the erection of a building at the northwest corner of Seventh and Walnut streets. The site was donated to the board on the condition that it erect a building there, and the board by a vote determined it was the scuse of the members that such a building be erected.

About this time Mr. Gentry, who was not then in complete control of the building, although he was the largest stockholder and had made an arrangement with the bondholders which he proposed to members of the board as individuals and which would have allowed them to begome stockholders in the building, Mr. Gentry, however, retaining control. Several of the members favored this proposition, but it was not generally accepted, and finally was abandoned. It had the effect, however, of delaying the movement to erect a new board of trade building committee had falled through and little It had the effect, however, of delaying the movement to erect a new board of trade building until after the plans of the building committee had fallen through and little more was said about the board changing its quarters until recently. Several months ago Mr. Gentry bought the outstanding bonds against the building, and by foreclosure wiped out most of the outstanding stock. The board then demanded lower rents. This Mr. Gentry refused to concede, and the old troubles broke out afresh with a result that when a petition was circulated yesterday under direction of the building committee a majority of the board signed it, agreeing to vacage the Exchange building and move into rew quarters on the recommendation of the building committee.

The contracts of most of the tenants of the Exchange building require that they give thirty days notice before leaving, and it is not expected that this notice will be given before June 1, if that early. This would result in their remaining in the building until July 1. Several of the rall-road offices and some of the grain concerns have yearly contracts which would hold them there far beyond that date.

The plan to erect a new building for the board of trade has been abandoned by the present building committee, which is composed of L. M. Miller, J. Bookwalter, H. P. Perrine and J. E. Seaver.

There were no bidders except those for the bondholders. H. P. Dillon, of Topeka, master in chancery, made the sale. The Missouri Pacific rallway has been operating the road for eight years and had a twenty-five years lease on it, which the foreclosure sale annuls. It was given out here to-day, however, by a man in position to know, that the Missouri Pacific will have its lease extended. After the sale Mr. Dillon left for Concordia, Kas., to sell, this afternoon, what is known as the Atchison, Colorado & Pacific division of the same road, and the Atchison, Jewell City & Western branch, at Mankato, Tuesday. The whole line is 250 miles long.

CONCORDIA, KAS., May 23.-(Special.) Master Hiram P. Dillon sold the Central Branch road from Waterville west to its western limit, including the branch to Washington and the Prosser branch, from Concordia north to the Nebraska line, at 4:40 o'clock this afternoon. A large crowd was present, expecting an exciting sale, but it was as quiet as a funeral. There was but one bid, that of T. Jefferson Coolidge, Jr., and Oliver Ames, of Boston, the only party qualifying, to whom it was knocked down for $1,017,500.

Gerald L. Clapp and Simon Borg, of New York, and Colonel W. H. Rossington, of Topeka, were at the Coates House yesterday on their return from Atchison, where they attended the receiver's sale of the portion of the Central branch of the Union Pacific road that runs from Atchison to Waterville. Mr. Clapp and Mr. Borg represented the reorganization committee of the bondholders of the company and purchased the road for $2,550,000. After their arrival in the city they closed up some legal matters connected with the rale and left the city last evening. They had nothing to say as to the future of the line.
